** KIDS CAN NOT CONSENT ****

Prelude:

My purpose in writing this is to leave you with one resounding thought: “Not on my watch! This ends today!” What I’m about to share is happening right now—in your community, in your state, across this nation, and around the world.

I have listened to the grown children who have endured these atrocities, and their cries of pain are unmistakable. The horrifying, systematic abuse they’ve suffered goes beyond anything Epstein or Nassar could have conceived. Now, as survivors, they are standing united and declaring: No more. Not one more generation will endure this!

These crimes are so grotesque, so shocking, that at times they seem unfathomable. But they are real. They must be brought into the light. We, as a society, can no longer turn a blind eye. We must act now to protect the innocence of our children before it’s too late.

In what world is harming innocent children and leaving them to rot in their own minds until they pass away from this earth a honorable thing?

History (Brief)

The Church of Scientology was founded by L. Ron Hubbard, a convicted felon in France for fraud. He died a lonely and miserable death in 1986. After L Ron Hubard passed away David Miscavige took over as Chairman of the Board (COB). The church operates as a religious entity, but it’s structured through over 50 interwoven 501(c)(3) organizations, creating a maze of corporations deliberately designed to confuse and obscure. The church lost its tax-exempt status for 23 years, only regaining it after relentless lawsuits, harassment, and intimidation of IRS members. In truth, the organization functions more like a multi-level marketing scheme than a religious institution. Documentaries like Going Clear and Leah Remini’s Aftermath have exposed much of this.

“Ex-Scientologists” namely Mike Rinder- Director of the Office of Special Affairs (OSA), Clair Headley- Director of the Religious Technology Center (RTC), Amy Scobee -Director International Management Center (Int Base), Mark Pesch – Chief Accountant, Debbie Cook were all executives that surrounded David Miscavige and were part and parcel to all crimes against children. They played a role in facilitating the abuse, covering up the abuse or arranging for the abuser to be moved to a different location. Not one of these executives are innocent to the atrocities and should be held accountable alongside David Miscavige. Each and every one of them knew what was happening to children, along with all scientologists including the parents of said children.

Mission of Scientology and how it fails

Scientology has two overarching goals: the first is to "clear the planet." To Scientologists, this means eradicating insanity, war, and crime while building a civilization rooted in sanity and peace. They believe this can only be achieved by helping individuals rid themselves of personal aberrations and regaining their inherent goodness—a process they call “clearing the planet.” The doctrine, policies, and practices of the “religion,” are structured around this mission. However, these very practices are abusive and harmful at their core.

The second, more insidious goal, is to eliminate psychiatry from the planet. To Scientologists, psychiatry is an abusive and destructive force. The church's policies, particularly through Dianetics courses, completely reject all forms of mental health diagnoses and treatment. Psychiatric medications are strictly forbidden. This dangerous belief system has resulted in multiple tragic deaths, including Lisa McPherson, Whitney Mills, and Philip Gale. Cancer is the leading cause of death among Scientologists and ex-Scientologists, closely followed by suicide—a disturbing trend rampant within the church.

Children are denied proper medical attention pertaining to any mental health diagnosis or treatment. Children are considered “degraded beings” if mental health is at all considered. No pharmaceutical interventions are considered for any child. A recent interaction two youths went into an Org to ask about the “church.” The recruiter for the Org spoke with the teens, found out they were on ADHD medicine and told them to quit taking their medicine if they wanted to be considered to join the church. They were also instructed to “Go ahead and cut off your hands, the pain is simply in your mind.” “You can control your body with your thoughts, it is like a robot.”

Scientology’s methods—auditing, ethics handling, and courses—are touted as essential and beneficial but are, in fact, mechanisms of abuse. These practices leave lasting physical, mental, and cognitive damage. Survivors often exhibit disabilities—both chronic and acute—stemming from these “services.” Physical scars bear witness to some of these abuses, while emotional and cognitive injuries manifest as severe trauma. Crimes against children range from Physical, Mental, Sexual abuse, rape, abandonment, torture, neglect, and failure to thrive. Almost 100% of ex-scientists show signs of mental and cognitive impairments, including PTSI, severe anxiety, depression, suicidal ideation, developmental delays, and stunted educational capacity.

The church offers these abusive services to all members, regardless of age. Some levels, like the OT Levels, are only available at Class 5 Organizations, such as the one in Los Angeles or the International Base in California. Auditing, ethics handling, and courses are administered to everyone, including babies as young as one day old. Age is no barrier in Scientology—not for auditing, ethics handling, courses, or even staff recruitment or the Sea Org. While executives claim there are no children in the Sea Org, this is merely a game of semantics. Scientologists believe children are merely grown thetans in small bodies, not children in need of protection.

Now, you may ask about religious freedom. Why do we see the need to take down this Goliath? While the First Amendment protects religious freedom, we must challenge the misuse of that protection. Consider the example of Jehovah's Witnesses, who believe they can refuse blood transfusions on religious grounds. While adults can make this choice for themselves and their children, the courts have examined these cases closely.

Now shift your thinking: what if a parent or church were poisoning a child, and that’s why they needed a blood transfusion in the first place? Or picture a religion that allows the handling of poisonous serpents. Is it religious freedom if a parent places a child in the middle of a box of vipers? Would that still be religious freedom, or is it child abuse? One more analogy: imagine parents signing away their children’s rights to become “volunteer ministers,” subjected to slave labor to pay off exorbitant church service fees. Families and children are uprooted and moved wherever the church deems necessary.

Is this religious freedom? Or is it a gross violation of human rights and an atrocity against our children? This is why we must act.

A Cry for Justice: Exposing Child Abuse and Human Trafficking in Scientology

Over 200 individuals have come forward, alleging abuse and trafficking within Scientology. Their experiences, while diverse, share a common thread: the organization's toxic practices that have led to widespread exploitation and harm. These victims, now adults, carry the scars of physical abuse, mental torture, sexual exploitation, child trafficking, and more. Many have attempted suicide, a testament to the profound trauma they've endured.

Our investigation is focused on the children within Scientology, as they are particularly vulnerable. These young victims, trapped within the organization's insular world, have endured unimaginable suffering. Their stories echo a chilling refrain: "I wish someone had noticed. I wish someone had spoken up." "I wish someone would have saved me."

Children today are being tortured, held hostage, abused, mentally and physically raped, figuratively, and literally. Children are being coerced into lying or groomed to not see the abuse is abnormal. Children today are crying for a savior to remove them from the monster's grip.

Scientology's doctrine and practices create an environment ripe for abuse. Children, including infants, are subjected to auditing sessions that can be emotionally and psychologically harmful. These sessions often involve one-on-one interactions with adults in closed rooms, with no oversight.

Children may not leave the session until they "have a win" (held hostage)

Children must hold the cans until the session is over, sometimes hours (detained)

Children are locked in the rooms with adults, no supervision (adults get comfortable in their clothing sometimes unzipping pants or taking off bras)

Children must know what the words mean even sexually explicit words (sexual exploitation)

Children must show they know the meaning of the words, demonstrate on a doll or clay model. (sexual role playing)

The victims' accounts paint a harrowing picture:

- Serge 1: Abandoned, raped, coerced, trafficked, mentally abused, physically neglected, denied education, and disconnected.
- Serge 2: Physically abused, neglected, abandoned, mentally tortured, homeless, denied education, and disconnected.
- Elizabeth: Physically abused, abandoned, mentally tortured, raped, forced to give up a child, unlawfully detained, trafficked, and disconnected.
- Jamie: Physically abused, mentally abused, severely neglected, denied education, coerced, and disconnected.
- Nora: Physically abused, mentally abused, unlawfully detained, raped, and disconnected.
- Jane 1: Physically abused, sexually abused, mentally abused, unlawfully detained, abandoned, denied education, homeless, and disconnected.
- Miriam: Physically abused, sexually abused, mentally abused, denied education, trafficked, and disconnected.

Scientology employs a sophisticated grooming process to manipulate children and prevent them from speaking out. They are told that their negative experiences are the result of their own choices or past lives, and that seeking help outside the organization is forbidden. It is a High Crime to report another scientologist to each other or to authorities. This grooming is instilled from birth. This conditioning can make it extremely difficult for victims to escape or seek justice.

CHILD Trafficking: A Hidden Bondage

Child trafficking is not merely physical confinement; it's an insidious form of exploitation that strips kids of their personal liberty through coercion, fraud, and manipulation. This definition is crucial for understanding the myriad ways in which children, especially foreign minors, are ensnared in a web of exploitation that often evades traditional law enforcement. Children who are deprived of their liberty by others with the intent to obtain forced labor or services are victims of child trafficking.

Scientology, a controversial organization, has been accused of perpetuating a form of child trafficking under the guise of "spiritual rehabilitation." Children are often relocated within or across borders for auditing or coursework, ostensibly to further their spiritual development. However, these extended stays can involve forced labor and servitude, disguised as "discipline" or "spiritual rehabilitation."

Historically, children as young as toddlers were exploited as laborers in Scientology. Even children as young as nine were subjected to arduous tasks, such as auditing other children or adults. These auditing sessions, which could last for hours, involved probing questions about personal experiences, including crimes, sexual practices, and perceived perversions. The goal was to extract a "win" from the individual being audited.

Today, while the overt use of child labor may be less apparent, Scientology continues to exploit children and teenagers through its Sea Org program. Teenagers are often subjected to adult work hours, laboring long hours for minimal compensation. Their schooling is secondary to the organization's goals, and they are expected to sacrifice their education for the greater good of Scientology.

Sea Org members, including children, are classified as Volunteer Ministers (VMs) under the IRS code. While they receive a small stipend, it is often insufficient to cover basic living expenses. Sea Org members must purchase their own toiletries, laundry supplies, communication items, and entertainment. Historically, Child VMs have been used to fill various roles within the organization, including child care, janitorial services, construction, and auditing.

Beyond Child Abuse: Human Trafficking

The scope of human trafficking within Scientology extends beyond children. Both adults and children are trafficked across state and national borders, their identities often stolen and concealed. This practice is particularly prevalent in recent years, with individuals being brought into the United States from Mexico and Europe.

The Urgent Need for Action

The testimonies of these victims demand immediate attention and action. Scientology's harmful practices must be exposed, and the organization must be held accountable for its crimes. It is imperative to protect vulnerable children within Scientology. Authorities need to provide them with protection, support, and resources they need to heal and rebuild their lives.

Parents, both those in Scientology and ex-Scientologists need to take accountability for what they have done to their children. Parents need to assume and be accountable for the role they play in handing their children over to the abusive doctrines, policies, and practices of the so-called religion.

Why is it so difficult to leave Scientology?

Scientology is a cult, a prison of belief. Many individuals are drawn to Scientology initially because they believe it can help them improve their lives. However, once inside, they may find it challenging to leave due to a combination of factors. The organization's teachings often emphasize the importance of staying within Scientology to save the planet, and members may face significant pressure to conform.

Parents turn a blind eye toward the abuses endured by their children daily. They refuse to see the blight of dropping their children off at the door to the auditing or course room, knowing well what is happening behind closed doors. Parents pretend it is for the good of the many so look the other way.

Scientology's practices can also be manipulative and controlling. The organization's emphasis on auditing, ethics handling, and coursework can be used to isolate members and maintain their loyalty. Additionally, Scientology's financial model, which involves fees for services rather than donations, can create a sense of indebtedness that makes it difficult for members to leave. Children are often bullied and coerced into "sessions" because the parent or relative has already paid for their services, so must be completed.

A brief overview of Scientology's membership structure:

- Public: Individuals who live outside of Scientology's communal living arrangements and pay for services.
- Staff: Members who sign two-and-a-half or five-year contracts to work at Scientology organizations.
- Sea Org: A dedicated group of members who have signed a billion-year pledge and live, work, and eat communally.

The Sea Org is particularly restrictive, with members facing strict rules regarding dating, marriage, and childbearing. Those who violate these rules may face punishment, including being sent to the Rehabilitation Project Force (RPF), a Scientology "jail" where members are subjected to harsh conditions and forced labor. Scientology claims the RPF does not exist any longer however that is untrue, it has just been renamed. The practice is still in effect. These punishments are made Regardless of age and without due process. Children are sent to the gulag or to "ethic handling" on a regular basis.

Unveiling the Tyranny: A Deep Dive into Scientology's Control Mechanisms

Scientology is not merely a religion; it's a complex web of control, manipulation, and abuse. To truly understand the challenges faced by those seeking to leave, we must delve deep into the organization's insidious tactics. Parents waking up to the complex web and not wanting to inflict additional abuses to their children must break the control over themselves.

The Psychological Warfare:

- The "Weight of the Planet": Scientology grooms members with the belief that their departure will doom the planet. This can be especially potent for those born into the organization, creating a sense of profound guilt and responsibility.

- Financial Ruin: The organization often threatens financial ruin and job loss as a deterrent to leaving. Members may be told that they will be unable to support themselves or their families if they abandon Scientology.
- Identity Crisis: Scientology's control over its members' identities can be a powerful tool of manipulation. Members may feel lost and confused without the organization's structure, leading to a sense of dependence and fear.
- Social Isolation: Disconnection is a core tenet of Scientology, whereby members are cut off from friends and family who have left the organization or are deemed "Suppressive Persons." This isolation can be a powerful tool for control, as members may fear being completely alone.

The Prison of Belief: Auditing, Ethics Handling, Courses, Security Checks, and Rundowns like the Purification Process.

- Auditing- These questions are given/received to and from adults and children. Adults ask children and children ask adults. Sexual exploitation is normal in these questions.

Claimed to be counseling processes. The Child is asked questions about past events while holding two metal cylinders attached to an electrical resistance meter (galvanometer) with a dial. The term "auditing" was coined by L. Ron Hubbard in his 1950 book Dianetics: The Modern Science of Mental Health, which describes the process. Auditing uses techniques from hypnosis that are intended to create dependency and obedience in the subject. Auditing is sold in session Intensives- 12.5-hour blocks that average $3000 per block. People can pay a higher fee to have a certain person "Audit" them, this includes picking children to audit them.

Intent- The main intention of an auditing session is to remove "charged incidents" that have caused trauma, which are believed in Scientology to be stored in the "reactive mind." Scientologists believe that the role of auditing is to improve a person's abilities and to reduce or eliminate their neuroses. These incidents must then be eliminated for proper functioning.

Actual result- extremely abusive role play. It is a barrage of questions on all intimate levels that include a Power dynamic imbalance that creates an indefensible position for any child on either side of the auditing table.

- Ethics Handling- These questions are given/received to and from adults and children. Adults ask children and children ask adults. Sexual exploitation is normal in these questions.

L. Ron Hubbard defined ethics as "reason and the contemplation of optimum survival." He has also pointed out: "Dishonest conduct is non-survival. Anything is unreasonable or evil which brings about the destruction of individuals, groups, or inhibits the future of the race."

Intent- "the actions an individual takes on himself to ensure his continued survival across the dynamics." It is a personal thing. When one is ethical, it is something one does oneself by choice.

Actual- extremely abusive high control role play like auditing however a little less formal than auditing but focused on controlling and shaming the child for any problem he or she pulled in. Ethics handling is used as crisis management. Children are made to stay in rooms for hours until the supervisor feels the child is handled.

Should ethics handling not correct the problem then the child is submitted to a procedure called a "Committee of Evidence," - Scientology's version of a jury. Committee of Evidence is brought for all high crimes. High crimes include talking about Scientology to anyone except your ethics officer or reporting a crime to an authority. Children are taught from speaking age to NOT talk to authorities. The Jury outcomes result in 3 ways, more auditing, RPF or declared a Suppressive Person (SP)

Additional auditing- added sessions are needed to clear the child of their crimes. Auditing could include sessions after confession of any real or imagined crime. These crimes could include talking to another scientologist even your parent. Crimes ARE NOT reported to the authorities. The crimes are dealt with in-house.

RPF- the Scientology jail. This is not limited by age children are routinely enslaved into the RPF. RPF prisoners work nonstop doing manual labor. Are separated from the church, are not able to speak to anyone unless spoken to, must run anywhere, sleep in bunks, eat after normal canteen hours. Children stay in the RPF until they have changed their behavior or made amends for their actions. This could be 6 months to years upon years. Children are put in the RPF jail without legal due process or justification. Executives say they eliminated the RPF, they did not, they only changed the name.

Declared SP- Disconnection is the outcome of being declared and SP. Any child declared an SP must leave the church and never speak to person in good standing within the church. This includes friends and family. Talking to an SP will get you declared also so this is strictly adhered to. There are no age limits on being declared and SP. Children are declared without their parents and the parents to continue in good standing MUST disconnect. In the list of over 200 survivors this is a common theme. Serge Obolensky is an example of this. As a child S. Obolensky was playing with firecrackers in the street, L Ron Hubbard way. The firecrackers damaged his hands and one eye. This cause them to be amputated and he lost his eye. The church declared him a suppressive person and the family had to disconnect. He was 15 at the time, he then lived alone first in a rental house paid by his social security but not knowing how to survive on his own he became homeless. He was known on the streets as the handless man. He was on the streets of LA for over a decade filthy and homeless. To this day he still has not talked with his mother or brother.

- Courses- These questions are given/received to and from adults and children. Adults ask children and children ask adults. Sexual exploitation is normal in these questions.

systematic approach to moving Scientologists to the state of Clear. Hubbard added a series of steps he called "releases" which handled memory, communication, problems, "overts and withholds" (sins, crimes, and secrets), upsets, and justifications for failure.

Intent- The Bridge to Total Freedom, also known as the Classification, Gradation and Awareness Chart, is Scientology's primary action plan and road map to guide a person through the sequential steps to attain Scientology's concept of spiritual freedom

Actual- Courses are a planned managed step/path to clear or OT levels. Courses are paid services that are grooming with dolls for role playing. Courses have attributes such as bull baiting, touch assist, confront, and interrogation

- Security Checks (Sec Checks) sample questions These questions are given/received to and from adults and children. Adults ask children and children ask adults. Sexual exploitation is normal in these questions.

Preprocess Sec Check

Are you a pervert?

Are you guilty of any major crimes in this lifetime?

Have you been sent here knowingly to injure Scientology?

Are you or have you ever been a Communist?

Are you closely affiliated to any person or organization violently opposed to L. Ron Hubbard or Scientology?

Johannesburg security check

The Johannesburg (also known as "Joburg" or "Jo'burg") Security Check was described by Hubbard as "the roughest security check in Scientology". An amended form continued to be used for some time thereafter. Amongst Hubbard's list of primarily crime-related questions is the question "Have you ever slept with a member of a race of another color?"

Have you ever embezzled money?

Have you ever been a drug addict?

Have you ever bombed anything?

Have you ever murdered anyone?

Have you ever raped anyone?

Have you ever had anything to do with a baby farm?

Only Valid security check

The contents of the Joburg security check were later revised into what became "The Only Valid Security Check". Added to the Sec Check are new questions

Do you collect sexual objects?

Do you have a secret you are afraid I'll find out?

Are you upset by this security check?

Have you ever had unkind thoughts about L. Ron Hubbard?

Auditor's sec check

This sec check, comprising 170 questions, was meant for staff auditors and field auditors

Do you hope you won't be found out?

Do you think there is anything wrong with having your privacy invaded?

What do you wish you hadn't done?

Are you upset by this security check?

Children's security check

Designed to be applied to children aged 6 to 12, it includes 100 questions

What has somebody told you not to tell?

Have you ever decided you didn't like some member of your family?

Have you ever taken something belonging to somebody else and never given it back?

Have you ever pretended to be sick (ill)?

Have you ever made yourself sick (ill) or hurt yourself to make somebody sorry?

Whole Track security check

This long Sec Check, consisting of hundreds of questions, takes stock of the subject's entire time track, including their "recollections" of any "past lives" they believe they have had.

Did you come to Earth for evil purposes?

Have you ever smothered a baby?

Have you ever enslaved a population?

Have you ever destroyed a culture?

Have you ever torn out someone's tongue?

Have you ever zapped anyone?

Have you ever eaten a human body?

Have you ever made a planet, or nation, radioactive?

The Purification Rundown is one of Scientology's most dangerous and controversial practices, masquerading as a detoxification program while endangering the physical and mental well-being of children. Behind the church's claims of spiritual cleansing lies a regimen that forces children into extreme, unsafe conditions, promoting pseudoscience and coercion in place of genuine care.

A Regimen Built on Exploitation

Scientology insists that toxins, drugs, and radiation lodge themselves in the fat cells of the body, blocking spiritual growth and enlightenment. The drugs could have been introduced from a past life so children are targeted for this process. Their solution? The Purification Rundown—an unregulated, hazardous program that subjects children to:

- Hours of extreme sauna sessions that can last up to five hours a day, pushing the body to dangerous levels of dehydration and heat exposure.
- Megadoses of niacin, a vitamin taken in amounts so high that it exceeds medical safety guidelines, putting participants at risk for liver damage and other severe side effects.

- Grueling exercise regimens, coupled with large quantities of supplements and oils, under the belief that this concoction will purge the body of its impurities.

But here is the truth: this regimen is not grounded in science, nor is it endorsed by any credible medical institution. It's built on the faulty premise that these substances can be flushed out through extreme measures, an idea long discredited by experts. The real result? Children endure physical suffering, mental exhaustion, and trauma, all for a "spiritual cleansing" that does nothing but deplete their health and spirit.

A Path to Danger, Not Salvation

This isn't just a questionable health trend; it's a deliberate system of control. Scientologists are pressured to undergo this brutal program, told that their spiritual progression depends on it. For many, refusal isn't an option—it's a requirement that's painted as the gateway to a higher state of being.

Those trapped in this system often push their children beyond the brink of safety, out of fear that failing to complete the program means stalling their spiritual path. This is no harmless detox. It's a cult-driven manipulation that leverages fear, spirituality, and vulnerability to enforce blind obedience.

Children report Counselors in charge of their purification rundown would lock them in the sauna for hours. Especially when their stats needed to be increased of people finishing the purification process. Children would pass out or become dehydrated/sick every session.

The Cost of Scientology's False Promises

The dangers of the Purification Rundown extend beyond just the physical harm. This program has been at the center of lawsuits and investigations. Families have lost loved ones to the damaging effects of this so-called "therapy," with Scientology refusing to take responsibility. In their unyielding commitment to shield their fraudulent practices, the church continues to silence dissenters and suppress medical criticism.

Make no mistake—Scientology's Purification Rundown is a pathway to harm. It's not about healing. It's about control, exploitation, and pushing people into dangerous extremes for the sake of maintaining power over their lives.

The Lack of External Support

Leaving Scientology can be a daunting and dangerous task. Again, it is like a domestic violence escape. It is essential for individuals seeking to leave to have a strong support network in place. This may include friends, family, former members, or mental health professionals. "Blowing," leaving AWOL is a high crime and those even suggesting they are going to leave or actually do are declared a Suppressive Person and penalized with disconnection from all friends and family still in Scientology. Those that are removed from the church, in particular SeaOrg Members are given a check for $500 and a ride to the bus stop. Those still in the process of becoming a SeaOrg member are put on the street.

There are several organizations that have evolved to helping scientologists that want to leave, the Aftermath Foundation and SPTV Foundation. Both are limited in scope and financial means. Emergency funding is available if the need is known and verified.

Government Agencies: These agencies have been previously notified and have not fulfilled their duty to protect children or trafficked victims.

- Federal Bureau of Investigations (FBI): The FBI investigates human trafficking and other crimes potentially committed by Scientology.
- Internal Revenue Service (IRS): The IRS has investigated Scientology's tax-exempt status.
- California Highway Patrol: California has laws addressing child sexual abuse and other crimes potentially relevant to Scientology activities. Similar laws exist in Florida, Texas, Illinois, and Utah.
- Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD): May have been involved in investigations related to Scientology activities in Los Angeles.
- Clearwater Police Department (CPD): May have been involved in investigations related to Scientology activities in Clearwater, Florida.
- Chicago Police Department (CPD): May have been involved in investigations related to Scientology activities in Chicago.

Laws in Violation

The information provided outlines potential violations of various laws including:

- Child Abuse: Physical, Mental, Sexual, Torture, Neglect, Abandonment, Unlawful Detainment, Sexual exploitation.
- Human Trafficking: Coercion, unlawful detainment, state to state, country to country
- Forced Labor: Children and adults

- <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=i4G2aoi81aw> a good explanation from Nora Ames about the "contracts" you MUST sign to receive services (auditing, ethics handling and courses) from scientology. SeaOrg members sign a billion-year contract or pledge in addition to these contracts. Children are forced to sign these contracts. EEOC states "volunteer ministers" can be paid nothing. the SeaOrg members receive $47.00 a week for their 100+ hrs. of work a week.
- <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DrWiSWUzp6Y> a current case RIGHT NOW that is happening a person that grew up in the cult, signed documents as a child then escaped in the back of a movie producers trunk. the courts are holding her to the arbitration. the arbitration says she cannot have a lawyer take notes, videos, or record anything.
- <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IIfSLHRpt7A> DNC just the other night. More and more people know Scientology is a cult.
- <https://sptv.space/> a website a volunteer put together to collect the survivor channel with stories, let everyone know when streamers are on live and somehow organize the channels. This can be a rabbit hole. There are a lot of eyes on the issue right now.
